

Developing networks. Leading science. Avoiding fads.

Advancing the Business of Science

Do you want to:

- Learn more about managing and leading in a bioscience company while avoiding fads that are unlikely to deliver on their promises?
- Understand the work environment components most likely to attract and retain talent while meeting or exceeding company goals?
- Reap the benefits of learning from peers across the bioscience community?
- Further develop your professional network?
- Engage in thought provoking conversations about the culture of science in research

If so, check out this unique program . . .

Foundational Theories of Work: The Science of Organizations

Working with a group of 8 to 12 peers over a nine week period, learn some of the core management and leadership approaches that will work best for you. This unique program was developed specifically for BioForward, and is open to employees of bioscience-based organizations. The meeting schedule will be developed around the participants' availability. Activities will include group meetings, teleconferences and readings. Fee: BioForward Members $120, Non-

Contact Karen Dettinger at 608-236-4756 or at kdettinger@bioforward.org to sign up.

For general program information:

www.bioforward.org
(608) 236-4693